Verse 1

From day one you've remained on my mind, under moonlight, starlight, sunshine Happy memories of a busier time, a happier place, a safer space, enough room just for two, in the beginning, only you and I

Moments, stopping the passage of time, remain fixed, etched, sketched, forever imprinted upon the consciousness of my mind
The first of firsts, love expressed with our first kiss, every day, growing fonder of you

Cherishing moments shared, for so long, marked by the passage of time as autumn colors intensified day after day

Chorus

When the moon rises high in the sky, and peers between the leaves
There's a star that shines bright in your eyes, the sparkling let's me see

That it's you on my mind, the one who makes (Alternative: let's) me shine
And it's you on my mind; know that it's you whose on my mind

Verse 2

The journey of life moved right along, despite temporary moments of strife we held on The view through the mutton bar panes, frosted glass, cold to the touch, once again

Seasons came and seasons passed never stopping while we laughed and cried
The view of winter's greys, darker skies, shorter days, growing crisper and clearer with time

As the years passed us by, reminded us one day that all things eventually die
But, moments, the stuff of our lives, always reminded us that we had more than enough to do each day just to survive

Chorus

When the moon rises high in the sky, and peers between the leaves
There's a star that shines bright in your eyes, the sparkling let's me see

And it's you on my mind; know that it's you whose on my mind

Verse 3

Green leaves budding overhead, seeing forest now for trees
Trees with leaves, partially, covering moon and stars

The night sky looking very different than once it was
Has the earth moved or was that a cloud?

Now, a clear line of sight, perspectives changed seemingly overnight
Never stationary, we reposition to see the moonlight, casting shadows on these old hills

Bridge 1

A pathway clearly marked, yet, we remain fixated, standing still Stumbling forwards under cloudy skies, the hope of spring now in our step as leaves slowly open and appear

Another season to forgive, another season to forget, time to move along
But, I have loved you all along, and I cannot let you go, you mean more to me than you know

The stars rising high in the sky, remind me you already know
That you feel the same way I do, lights reflecting in my eyes

I can see it in your eyes, now, too!

Chorus

When the moon rises high in the sky, and peers between the leaves
There's a star that shines bright in your eyes, the sparkling let's me see

That it's you on my mind, the one who makes (Alternative: let's) me shine
And it's you on my mind; know that it's you whose on my mind

Verse 4

With summer quickly in full bloom, life flourishing, once again, it's the month of June
Love is in the air, new life appearing everywhere

Baby ducklings follow mother to the pond as wedding bells ring out, singing their sweet and innocent songs
Announcing new beginnings, it's in the air

A breezy day, flowers blooming, again, just like every year
As seasons come, as seasons go, simply want to let you know

Bridge 2

You're the one constant in my life, my rock, my sounding board, my entire life
I'm asking, are you ready now, to take my hand, once again, and walk through another season of our life?

Chorus

When the moon rises high in the sky, and peers between the leaves
There's a star that shines bright in your eyes, the sparkling let's me see

That it's you on my mind, the one who makes (Alternative: let's) me shine
And it's you on my mind; know that it's you whose on my mind
