Chorus

When the day turns to night
And the night turns to day
You're still by my side
I can see, now, you've stayed

From daylight falls the night
From the dark (Alternative: darkness) rises insight
I know, now, that you're mine
From, today and tonight, for all time

Verse 1

When we first met
Young, uncertain about life and love
Thought no one could adore you, accept you
Didn't feel very good at all about yourself

Always depressed, the highs and the lows
Thought you'd never find real happiness
Said everyone, eventually, leaves me, anyway
I promised, I'd never hurt you; through it all I'd stay

Chorus

When the day turns to night
And the night turns to day
You're still by my side
I can see, now, you've stayed

From daylight falls the night
From the dark (Alternative: darkness) rises insight
I know, now, that you're mine
From, today and tonight, for all time

Bridge

You're here by my side
I know, now, that you'll stay
I can see that you're here
I know now that you've stayed
Through the daylight and the darkness of night
You stayed by my side and are here, for all time

Verse 2

As time passes by
Older and more certain you are, assured in life and love
Now, you know that you are much more than, merely, just enough
With new confidence, feeling, very good about yourself

Through the nights and the days you've a new found happiness
I promised I'd stay whether daylight or darkness of night
I'm still by your side; we found love, overnight
Now, I know that you're mine, for today and tonight, for all time

Chorus

When the day turns to night
And the night turns to day
You're still by my side
I can see, now, you've stayed

From daylight falls the night
From darkness rises insight
I know, now, that you're mine
From, today and tonight, for all time

I'm here.

Note: These final words are whispered in a soft, gentle, reassuring voice.
