Chorus

When the moon rises high in the sky and peers between the leaves (Alternative:
trees)
There's a star that shines bright in your eyes
The sparkling let's me see
That it's you on my mind
The one who makes (Alternative: let's) me shine
And it's you on my mind
Know, that it's you whose on my mind
Yeah, it's you on my mind

Verse 1

Never a day goes by
When I don't think about you
How comfortable life would be if you could travel the world with me
On excursions to faraway lands with exotic destinations
To see you every day on tour when I feel so alone
Without loved ones, by my side, no friends or family
I'll always regret the day that you walked out the door on me
The final words that you said, no thanks, I want an easier life, instead

Chorus

When the moon rises high in the sky and peers between the leaves (Alternative:
trees)
There's a star that shines bright in your eyes
The sparkling let's me see
That it's you on my mind
The one who makes (Alternative: let's) me shine
And it's you on my mind
Know, that it's you whose on my mind
Yeah, it's you on my mind

Bridge

Baby, come home to me, missing you, now, terribly
No one can take your place, walking beside me through this challenging life
Without a woman's (Alternative: or a man's) love, accepting me for who I am
What I love to do is incomplete, missing part of what makes me truly a man
(Alternative: a woman)
I sure wish that you'd forgive and forget my selfish mistakes,
For not being able to unlock all of your dreams, give you more, instead, of just take Providing all that a woman (Alternative: a man) like you needs Searching for the key to melting and unlocking this wiser man's (Alternative: woman's) frozen, broken heart

Verse 2

Never a day goes by
When I'm unhappy about my decision to change my life
Finding quality time to be with you, every day, every night
Coming home each evening and sleeping in the same bed every night
Watching our kids grow tall, getting into trouble with you their mom Never regret for one minute who I've become Proud of being able to, now, give you what it is that you want
Making life comfortable for our kids and life easier for you is now what I do

Chorus

When the moon rises high in the sky and peers between the leaves (Alternative:
trees)
There's a star that shines bright in your eyes
The sparkling let's me see
That it's you on my mind
The one who makes (Alternative: let's) me shine
And it's you on my mind
Know, that it's you whose on my mind
Yeah, it's you on my mind
