Chorus

Living life alone
On the edge of the unknown
Isn't where I want to be
You taking strides alongside me
To our fate or destiny
Is truly living life for me
Can't (Alternative: Don't) you see?

Verse 1

The day you walked out
I couldn't believe that you did
I stood in the garage doorway looking at you
Asking, what are you doing?
A look of fear in your eyes I heard you say, I'm leaving
I couldn't understand, then, I can't fathom it, now
Maybe I never will; don't (Alternative: can't) you see?

Chorus

Living life alone
On the edge of the unknown
Isn't where I want to be
You taking strides alongside me
To our fate or destiny
Is truly living life for me
Can't (Alternative: Don't) you see?

Bridge

Now, that we're past all of that I keep hearing through the grapevine that you might want me back?
Boy (Alternative: Girl), you know I don't forgive and I don't forget, any or all of that
And you know me well enough, by now, to know that I never look back
Don't (Alternative: can't) you see?

Verse 2

I moved on after you'd gone
To my surprise someone else was already taking your place
Ready to stand by me through life
Honey, I've found someone new who loves me more than you
Someone who makes me smile and sings to me each day
Who loves me for who I am and makes me feel content every night
So, I'm not going back to something that we never had; don't (Alternative: can't) you see?

Chorus

Living life alone
On the edge of the unknown
Isn't where I want to be
You taking strides alongside me
To our fate or destiny
Is truly living life for me
Can't (Alternative: Don't) you see?
