Verse 1

Darling, may I share a thought or two?
I will try to keep it short and sweet
I love you more than you may think
I love you more than roses of pure white
When I'm with you I feel more than I can think
So, this year I decided to convey meaning through song,
My emotions run deep and linger, on and on
I love you, forever, and that's for keeps
Roses don't stay around for nearly this long
They will wither and be forever gone

Chorus

Darling, I wrote you your very own birthday song
My love for you is deep, lingers on and on
Now you understand how I think and what I feel
I love you more than any shade of pink
I love you deeply, deeply, lovely
Red
I love you deeply, deeply, lovely
Red
I love you deeply, deeply, lovely
Red

Verse 2

Darling, so I do not forget or mix-up the date, again
This year I'll be real early rather than oh so late
When it's quiet and we're all alone
I can feel your heartbeat, beat, feels a lot like home
May I kiss you goodnight, darling, this time on your lips?
Flowers in any color or shade simply don't, won't cut it
My love for you is deeper than deep
That's why I wrote this song, cause
Roses won't be around for nearly this long
They will wither and be forever gone

Bridge

Happy Birthday, darling!
The ?th day of ? in ????
Today's your day, and
I'm still in love with you
My one and only remains
The one and only, You
Did I already mention, it?
I love you deeply, deeply
I love you deeply, deeply
Yeah, Red

Chorus

Darling, I wrote you your very own birthday song
My love for you is deep, lingers on and on
Now you understand how I feel and what I think
I love you more than any shade of pink
I love you deeply, deeply, lovely
Red
I love you deeply, deeply, lovely
Red
I love you deeply, deeply, lovely
Red
